

Where's the Nine

Desensitized to Insanity

FUSION,
JAZZ, ROCK

Focus Tracks

[5] 2 Days Left, [7] She's Furious

Background Information

Musicians often take the path of commercial viability to reach the largest audience and to ensure their longevity but often sacrifice the passion that drove them to music in the first place. Barry Connors, the percussive force behind such bands as Coney Hatch, Lee Aaron and Toronto has teamed up with virtuoso Dean Watson to present a phenomenal, instrumental progressive mix that finds and nurtures a passion that answers to no one.

With a diverse mix of jazz, rock, fusion and progressive elements that hints of such greats as Yes, UK, Rush, Triumvirat, FM, this music comes to life with a character all its own. This is not merely a collection of songs, it is a story, a journey that must be travelled time and again to fully appreciate all its twists and turns. All keyboards and guitars were recorded at 'The Chalet by the Lake' in Rosseau, Ontario and all drums were recorded at 'The Dungeon' in Cambridge, Ontario.

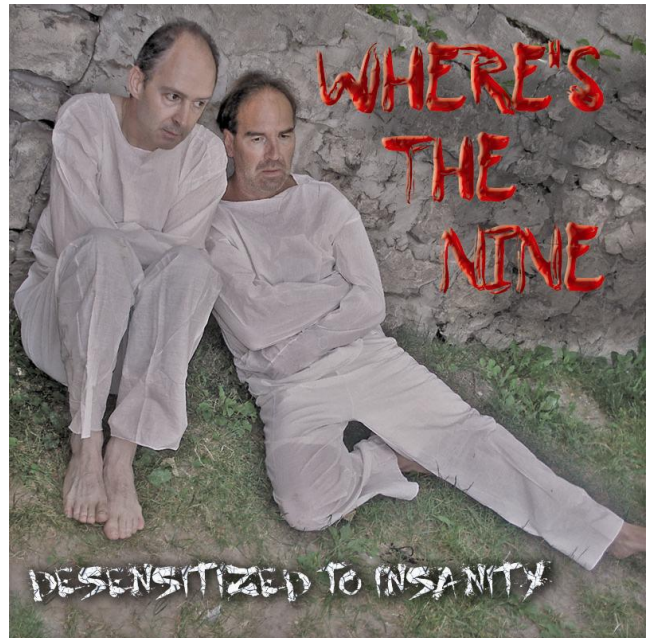

Press

"Many of the mainstay elements of Barry Connors' and Dean Watson's playing that made them fantastic musicians in the first place are still present; the blinding speed, the driving aggression, the relentless intensity, the unending contrapuntal phrasing, the constantly shifting underpinnings, and the seamless continuity. The range of composition is very eclectic and slick in compositional scope."

-Keith Fraser

Distribution

- CD can be purchased online through the Cyclone Records e-store at www.cyclonerecords.ca, through Bullseye Canada and HMV.com.
- Individual tracks and disc are available for download through iTunes, Napster, eMusic, MusicFan.fm among other retailers.

Track Listing

- A Rather Odd Tribute [1]
- Mood Swings [2]
- Half of Eighteen [3]
- Threw the Looking Glass [4]
- Two Days Left [5]
- Lethargic Waltz [6]
- She's Furious [7]
- The Camera Ear [8]

Contact Info

www.myspace.com/wheresthenine

Cyclone Records
PO Box 71550
Aurora, Ontario
L4G 6S9
416.738.5022
info@cyclonerecords.ca

